INTRODUCTION

This Conflict Disclosure System User's Guide is designed to walk Vanderbilt University Medical Center (VUMC) staff through the process of creating and submitting a conflict of interest disclosure for approval. The guide includes information on creating a disclosure and submitting it for approval, as well as approving a disclosure. A summary of the steps to follow for each process is provided in each section.

If problems are encountered with the Conflict Disclosure System after following the guidelines in this document or if you have suggestions for improvement, please send an email to the following address: coi.vumc@vumc.org.

The Conflict Disclosure System is a web application built specifically for Vanderbilt University Medical Center staff to submit and approve conflict of interest disclosures. Developed initially in 2007, the application allows authorized users to create a disclosure and submit it for approval. It also contains a facility for approvers to review and approve disclosures.

Medical Center staff must complete a disclosure each fiscal year as part of the annual performance evaluation process. If a potential conflict arises during the year, a disclosure can and should be completed as conflicts arise. The Conflict Disclosure System has been created to support this process. Outlined below is a brief summary of the disclosure process the system supports. In addition, a flowchart outlining the process is provided. More details on how to complete each step is provided in the sections that follow.

NOTE: VUMC employed faculty should not use this system to complete their COI disclosures. COI disclosures for School of Medicine and School of Nursing faculty employed by VUMC are handled through the Office of Faculty Affairs.

A VUMC ID and Password are needed to use the Conflict Disclosure System.

If you have forgotten your Password, go to the following website and follow the instructions for recovery: <https://myidentity.app.vumc.org/forgotpassword/>.

If you are using a Microsoft Windows based computer, Internet Explorer version 8.0 or higher, Firefox, or Chrome web browsers are supported. If there is a problem with your web browser, please contact your local technical support person for assistance.

The Conflict Disclosure System's website can be accessed via the following URL: <https://coi.app.vumc.org/>

Enter your VUMC ID and Password on the log-in page and click Sign On to access the system.

PROCESS OVERVIEW:

1. Disclosure Creation and Submission for Approval: VUMC staff are responsible for submitting a disclosure each fiscal year. During the process disclosers complete a disclosure in the Conflict Disclosure System.

- When completing a disclosure, the main Yes/No questions and acknowledgements must be completed on the main disclosure page. If Yes was answered on any of the main Yes/No questions, then additional details about the potential conflict must be provided by completing a conflict details questionnaire. Note that some questions may be private and not visible by the approver.
- Once all disclosure questions are answered, an approver is selected on the Select Approver pages. Some departments' disclosures are automatically assigned an approver. If the incorrect approver is assigned or no approver is assigned, follow the steps on the Select Approver pages and select the correct approver.
- The completed disclosure is submitted to the approver for approval. In addition, once a week the system will notify the approver about outstanding disclosures that require approval. When the disclosure is submitted for approval, it is no longer editable by the discloser.

2. Disclosure Approval: when a disclosure is submitted for approval, the approver logs into the Conflict Disclosure System and approves the disclosure through the My Approvals page.

- If the disclosure does not have any public conflicts the disclosure can be approved directly from the My Approvals page by selecting the disclosure and clicking the Approve Selected Disclosure button. Note that private questions are not visible to the approver and not part of the review/approval process for approvers.
- If the disclosure has public conflicts, the approver must review the disclosure details and complete the management plan page for the disclosure. Once the management plan page is created, the disclosure can be approved. After a review of the plan has been completed by the COI Review Committee, the final step for the approver is to acknowledge that the management plan has been put in place.
- The approver also has the option to return a disclosure to the discloser. Upon returning a disclosure, the approver will be required to select a reason for return and has the option to include any additional comments as to why it is being returned. The approver should notify the discloser via email or phone that the disclosure has been returned. In addition, the system notifies the discloser that the disclosure has been returned. The return reason and comments are included in the email and the disclosure for reference.

STEP-BY-STEP GUIDE FOR DISCLOSER:

Outlined below are the steps a staff member should follow to create a disclosure in the Conflict Disclosure System and submit it for approval.

1. Log in to the Conflict Disclosure System. See the Introduction section of this document for information on how to access the log-in page.

NOTE: If you have not previously created a disclosure, the My Disclosures page will be displayed without any disclosures in the list. If a disclosure has been created, it will be displayed on the My Disclosures page.

3. Click the Create Disclosure button.

- Note that if you already have a draft or returned disclosure created, then the Create Disclosure button will not be displayed on the page. You must complete and submit the disclosure or delete it in order to gain access to the Create Disclosure button.

4. If you have previously completed a disclosure you will be prompted to copy information from the last approved disclosure into the new one.

- Select Yes to copy information from the last approved disclosure to the new disclosure. Answers to the main disclosure questions and disclosure detail questions will be copied into the new disclosure. Acknowledgement, approver, and management plan information will not be copied.
- Select No to create a blank disclosure into which you will be able to enter your information.
- Select Cancel to stop and return to the My Disclosure page.

5. The new disclosure is displayed on the page.

6. If information was copied from a previous disclosure, the answers to the questions will be defaulted. Confirm that the answer to each question is correct and update answers where needed. If no previous disclosure was copied, answer each of the Yes/No disclosure questions at the top of the page. Note that private questions are not visible to approvers.

7. At the bottom of the page, review the acknowledgements and assignments. Check each one that has been completed. Click on the links provided to view the websites containing the various policies and additional information provided.

8. If Yes was answered on any of the main disclosure questions:

- Click the Click Here to Provide Details button to provide more information about the conflict.
- On the Disclosure Details Summary page, click the Create Conflict Detail button.
- Complete all of the information on the Disclosure Details page and click the Back to Details Summary button to return to the Disclosure Details Summary page. If additional detail records need to be provided, use the Create Conflict Detail button to create the records. Note that any information related to private questions are not visible to the approver. Use the Back to Disclosure button to return to the main disclosure page and continue with the submission process.

9. On the main disclosure page, the Comments section can be used to provide information that is not covered in one of the questions. Click the Add button in the Comment section to add a comment.

- Enter the comment in the popup provided and click Add Comment.
- The comment will be added to the Comments section of the page. The comment can be changed or removed by clicking the Edit or Delete button, respectively.

10. On the main disclosure page, the Attachments section can be used to provide files (Word documents, Excel spreadsheets, etc.) of additional information to your approver or to COI administration. Some example attachments are: the management plan that is already in place, documents explaining what the outside business does, any relevant contracts or business agreements, documents authorizing engagement in activity, etc.

11. Click the Add button in the Attachments section to add an attachment.

In the Add Attachment window, click the Browse button to search for the file attachment on your local computer. Select the file and click Open. Click Attach File on the Add Attachment screen to add the attachment to the disclosure.

  - A maximum of 4 attachments can be added to a disclosure.
  - Each attachment must be less than 5 MB in size.
  - The attachment will be added to the Attachment section of the disclosure. The attachment can be removed by clicking the Delete button. The attachment can be viewed by clicking on the filename or on the icon to the left of the filename.
12. Once the questions on the main disclosure page are completed and conflict details provided (if required), then an approver must be selected. Click the Continue button at the bottom of the main disclosure page to continue to the Select Approver pages.
13. The Select Approver pages are used to search for and select your approver from a list of active staff members. Some COI approvers are defaulted based on the discloser's department. If your approver has been assigned based on your department, the approver will be listed on the first Select Approver page. If the approver is correct, click Continue, otherwise click the here link to go to the search for approver pages. If the approver is not defaulted based on your department, continue to the next step.
14. Review the instructions on the first Select Approver page and click Continue.

15. Enter the last name of the approver in the Last Name field and click the Search button to search for the person.
- If you are not sure how to spell your approver's name, you can enter part of the approver's last name.
  - The % symbol can be used as a wildcard.
  - If too many search results are returned, enter the first initial of the person's first name and click Search. For example, entering a last name of 'jone' and a first name of 'ja' would return a list of all people with a last name starting with 'jone' and a first name starting with 'ja'.
16. A list of active staff that meets the search criteria will be listed. Click the Select button next to your approver's name.
17. The selected approver's name will be populated on the next page. If the approver is correct, click Continue, otherwise click the here link to go back to the search for approver pages.

Any missing information will be listed on the Submit Disclosure page along with a Go to Page button that can be clicked to go directly to the page where the required information is missing. The information that is missing on the page will have an exclamation mark (!) next to it. Complete any missing information and navigate back to the Submit Disclosure page using the Submit Disclosure button at the bottom of the page.
19. When all information is completed, click the Submit button on the Submit Disclosure page to make the disclosure available for approval by the approver. The approver should be notified in person or via phone or email that the disclosure is ready for approval. In addition, once a week the system will notify the approver about outstanding disclosures that require approval. When the disclosure is submitted, it is no longer editable by the discloser.
20. You will receive an email that your disclosure has been approved. If you have reported a conflict, you and your approver will work together to determine a management plan for the conflict, if necessary. If the Management Plan is approved by the COI Office, you will receive an email with instructions on how to log back into the Conflict Disclosure System and check a box that will indicate you agree to and accept the Management Plan.

The disclosure cannot be approved from the My Approvals page. Click on the name of the staff member to open the disclosure.

- On the main disclosure page, review the questions with a Yes answer.

When the disclosure is approved, the approver no longer has the ability to edit the disclosure. An email is sent to the discloser notifying them that the disclosure has been approved.

COI Committee Review

After the approver has created a management plan or determined that a management plan is not necessary, the COI Committee will review the disclosure and any action taken by the approver. After the COI Committee completes the review, an email will be sent out to both the discloser and the approver requiring each of them to review the management plan. Please note that the COI Committee may determine that a management plan is necessary even when the approver does not, or the COI Committee may determine that additional information needs to be added to the management plan. After review of the management plan, the approver should discuss the management plan with the discloser to ensure understanding of all requirements of the management plan.
