New Features

- Tell me what you want to do

Need help finding a command or feature? Simply type the name of the feature into the Tell me what you want to do text box and a list of suggestions will be displayed. In this example the word New Email was typed into the Tell me what you want to do text box and the following suggestions were returned:

In the image above, a list of commands related to a New Email are displayed, including Help information.

- Archive – The new archive feature should not be confused with a true archive solution. Per Microsoft’s description, “We recommend using the Archive feature to keep your Inbox clear of messages you’ve already answered or acted on.” The Archive moves the message from the Inbox to an Archive folder. Additional information on the Archive can be found here: <https://support.office.com/en-us/article/archive-in-outlook-2016-for-windows-25f75777-3cdc-4c77-9783-5929c7b47028>.
