

Purpose

The VUMC Office for Continuous Professional Development (OCPD) takes seriously its obligation for protecting individuals' information and ensures that all confidential information provided by users will be used for the purpose for which it was collected, both by the OCPD and VUMC business partners necessary for completing transactions.

The OCPD does NOT:

- Provide email, phone numbers, or physical addresses to third parties.
- Provide any information regarding individual users to marketing companies.
- Use cookies (or any other technology) to track or report on its users' Web activities when they are not using our site.

The OCPD DOES keep track of the following types of information:

- All information maintained within a user's profile
- User preferences and individual registration data. This is stored in a secure database.
- CE credit that has been earned (including but not limited to MOC II credit, non-physician attendance, and NCPD credit), attendance history, completed tests, completed quizzes, and completed evaluations.

The OCPD follows VUMC HIPAA policies for all CME activities. Please refer to VUMC compliance for HIPAA polices
