

On behalf of the Vanderbilt University School of Medicine Department of Ophthalmology and Visual Sciences at the Vanderbilt Eye Institute, we are pleased to present the 39th Annual Midwest Glaucoma Symposium.

This year's meeting features a distinguished guest speaker list including Keith Barton, Allen Beck, Christopher Girkin, Marlene Moster, Mark Moster, Felipe Medeiros and Peter Chang. Along with members of the Vanderbilt Eye Institute faculty, the invited speakers will discuss a vast array of topics covering all aspects of glaucoma. The full day scientific program will provide practical and invaluable information geared towards the diagnosis and treatment of glaucoma.

This year's named lectures include: William and Grace Snyder Lecture (Allen D. Beck), Cohen-Merck Lecture (Christopher Girkin), Alcon International Lecture (Keith Barton), Kapetansky Allergan Lecture (Marlene Moster) and MGS Allergan Research Lecture (Felipe Medeiros).

The Vanderbilt Eye Institute remains committed to supporting continuing educational activities for our extended community, while also addressing issues of vision research and providing state-of-the-art eyecare, both now and in the future.

DEADLINES

July 14, 2016

After the deadline, the block of rooms will be released and reservations will be made on a space-available basis at the best available rate.

Midwest Glaucoma Registration: July 15 (Early Bird)

COURSE DESCRIPTION

- STATEMENT OF NEED & LEARNING OBJECTIVES

Many practitioners still prescribe medication and recommend surgical intervention based on outdated principles and beliefs. The goal of the Midwest Glaucoma Symposium is to provide updates on current medical and surgical treatments available for all of the common glaucomatous diseases; to encourage therapeutic decisions based on sound evidence-based medicine rather than anecdotal reports, and to highlight prospective multi-center studies to enable physicians to practice sound evidence based medicine.

- After participating in this CME activity, participants should be able to describe and discuss approaches to :
 - 1) The medical management of glaucoma patients
 - 2) Identifying glaucoma progression
 - 3) Correctly diagnosing glaucoma
 - 4) State of the art glaucoma surgical intervention

- TARGET AUDIENCE

Ophthalmologists, optometrists, nurses, residents, fellows, medical students, and technicians.

- ACCREDITATION

Vanderbilt University School of Medicine is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

Vanderbilt University School of Medicine designates this live activity for a maximum of 12.5 *AMA PRA Category 1 Credit(s)*TM. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

Continuing education credits in optometry for the 39th Annual Midwest Glaucoma Symposium is pending approval from COPE.

THE 10TH ANNUAL MGS ALCON INTERNATIONAL LECTURE

August 5 • 2:00 – 2:40 p.m.

KEITH BARTON, M.D. F.R.C.P., F.R.C.S., F.R.C.O.phth

DR. KEITH BARTON is a Consultant Ophthalmologist and Glaucoma Specialist at Moorfields Eye Hospital, Honorary Reader in the Department of Genetics and Epidemiology, UCL Institute of Ophthalmology, Editor-in-Chief of the British Journal of Ophthalmology and Chairman of the International Glaucoma Association (Registered Charity).

His areas of interest are the surgical management of glaucoma, especially surgical devices and secondary glaucomas, specifically the management of glaucoma in uveitis, for which he runs a dedicated clinic at Moorfields Eye Hospital. He has been an investigator in the Tube versus Trabeculectomy Study and co-chair of the Ahmed Baerveldt Comparison Study. He is currently a member of the Primary Tube Versus Trabeculectomy (PTVT) Study steering committee, chief investigator in the Corneal Ancillary Study to the PTVT Study and a member of the trial management committees of both the Treatment of Advanced Glaucoma (TAGS) and Lasers in Glaucoma and Ocular Hypertension (LIGHT) Studies.

His medical school education was in Belfast followed by residency training at Moorfields Eye Hospital in London and a fellowship in Cornea and External Eye Disease at the Bascom Palmer Eye Institute, University of Miami. He was director of the glaucoma service at Moorfields Eye Hospital from 2005 - 2011, has been Chairman of the International Glaucoma Association since 2012 and Editor-in-Chief of the British Journal of Ophthalmology from 2014. He was also Hong Leong Visiting Professor at the Department of Ophthalmology, National University of Singapore from 2011 - 2014. In 2015 he also joined the board of trustees of the TFC Frost Charitable Trust.

Dr. Barton has been invited to lecture on every continent. He is the former glaucoma program director of the Societas Ophthalmologica Europaea, the scientific program co-chair of the International Congress on Glaucoma Surgery and founder of ESCRS Glaucoma Day. He organises and runs glaucoma educational symposia which have attracted significant acclaim, including The Glaucoma Galaxy – A Hitch-hiker's Guide (2007) and the Moorfields International Glaucoma Symposium (from 2008 – 2015). In 2012, Dr Barton co-founded and co-organised Ophthalmology Futures Forums, industry investor networking events in Ophthalmology.

Dr Barton has been involved in charitable work and population-based research in Ghana, West Africa as an investigator in the Tema Eye Survey and is currently an investigator in the follow-up Tema Eye Survey II. He regularly takes part in sporting events, more recently raising money for Moorfields Eye Charity and the International Glaucoma Association. He has completed 5 marathons including Boston and has twice completed the Berlin Marathon.

THE WILLIAM S. AND GRACE SNYDER LECTURESHIP IN OPHTHALMOLOGY

August 5 • 8:50 – 9:30 a.m.

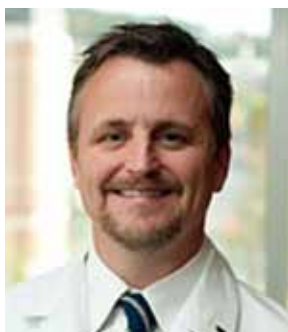

ALLEN BECK, M.D.

DR. ALLEN BECK received his undergraduate degree from Vanderbilt University (magna cum laude) and his medical degree from Emory University (cum laude, member of AOA honor society). He completed his ophthalmology residency and glaucoma fellowship at Emory University. Dr. Beck has served on the full-time ophthalmology faculty of Emory University since 1994. He became the Emory glaucoma section director in 1999 and the William and Clara Redmond Professor of Ophthalmology in 2006. Dr. Beck became the interim chair of the Department of Ophthalmology and interim director of the Emory Eye Center in March 2016. Dr. Beck has received the Clinical Teaching Award from Emory ophthalmology residents twice, the AAO Achievement Award, and been named to the Top Doctor's in Atlanta list from 2009-2015.

Dr. Beck has published extensively on childhood glaucoma diagnosis and management and serves as the medical monitor for the NEI sponsored, Infant Aphakia Treatment Study (IATS), headed by Dr. Scott Lambert at Emory University. Dr. Beck is a principal investigator in the OHTS III trial. He has served as a principal investigator in glaucoma clinical trials, including the NEI sponsored Advanced Glaucoma Intervention Study (AGIS) and the Ocular Hypertension Treatment Study (OHTS I and II). Dr. Beck has a strong interest in glaucoma medication research, as well as factors that influence adherence, and participated as a co-investigator in the Emory based, NEI funded, Interactive Study to Increase Glaucoma adHerence to Treatment (I-SIGHT).

THE 19TH ANNUAL COHEN MERCK LECTURE

August 5 • 10:20 – 11:00 a.m.

CHRISTOPHER A. GIRKIN, M.D., M.S.P.H., F.A.C.S.

DR. CHRISTOPHER A. GIRKIN is the chairman of the University of Alabama at Birmingham (UAB) Department of Ophthalmology and Chief Medical Officer for the Callahan Eye Hospital. After residency at UAB he completed a fellowship in neuro-ophthalmology at the Wilmer Eye Institute and was a Heed Glaucoma Fellow at the Hamilton Glaucoma Center at the University of California, San Diego. He joined the UAB faculty and founded the Department's Glaucoma Service in 1999. Dr. Girkin has authored or coauthored over 260 journal articles and his research lab has been supported by Research to Prevent Blindness, Glaucoma Research Foundation, EyeSight Foundation of Alabama, the Center for Disease Control and the National Eye Institute. This research explores the mechanisms underlying the greater predilection to develop glaucomatous injury in individuals of African ancestry. Related hypothesis are explored through patient-oriented research, including morphometric and biomechanical studies of the lamina cribrosa and posterior sclera utilizing post-mortem human donor tissues, imaging of the lamina cribrosa in the NEI-sponsored African Descent and Glaucoma Evaluation Study (ADAGES), and imaging-based health services research to deliver care to underserved populations in the CDC-sponsored Eye Care Quality and Accessibility Improvement in the Community (EQUALITY) study. His honors include being selected to the "Best Doctors in America" yearly from 2003 to 2015, the AAO Senior Achievement Award, two American Glaucoma Society Clinician-Scientist Awards, the Research to Prevent Blindness Clinician-Scientist Award, the EyeSight Foundation of Alabama Eminent Scholar Award and the Ronald Lowe Medal.

THE 21ST ANNUAL KAPETANSKY ALLERGAN LECTURE

August 6 • 9:20 – 10:00 a.m.

MARLENE MOSTER, M.D.

DR. MARLENE MOSTER is a Professor of Ophthalmology at Thomas Jefferson Medical College in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. She is an attending surgeon at Wills Eye Hospital and also holds an appointment at Main Line Surgery Center.

Dr. Moster graduated from SUNY Health Science Center at Syracuse, New York, in 1979, underwent a postgraduate ophthalmology residency at the University of Pittsburgh Eye and Ear Hospital, and subsequently a Glaucoma Fellowship at the Wills Eye Hospital, Philadelphia. She is board certified in ophthalmology and licensed in Pennsylvania, New Jersey, and Delaware.

Dr. Moster has authored and co-authored over 80 peer-reviewed articles in various ophthalmologic journals. She has written many book chapters and has edited a book on Anesthesia in Ophthalmology. She also plays an important role in the evaluation of research material as a manuscript referee for the American Journal of Ophthalmology, Ophthalmic Surgery and Lasers, and Journal of Glaucoma, British Journal of Ophthalmology. She is a member of the Advisory Board for Review of Ophthalmology and Ocular Surgery News and Glaucoma Today and is on the Board of the Glaucoma Society and Glaucoma Liaison to the ASCRS.

Dr. Moster has participated in clinical research studies involving new drugs for glaucoma and advances in surgical techniques as well as educational programs and lectures affiliated with the Wills Eye Hospital, the American Glaucoma Society, and the American Academy of Ophthalmology, among others. The focus of her participation is diagnosis, therapy, and surgical intervention for glaucoma.

Dr. Moster has received recognition for her professional and philanthropic involvement in the field of ophthalmology, including an appreciation award from Eye Care America for her voluntary services in providing eye care to the public. In 1999 she was appointed Coordinator for "Glaucoma 2001" for the state of Pennsylvania, a public service project of the Foundation of the American Academy of Ophthalmology. Dr. Moster has received recognition in publications including "Who's Who" (Marquis Who's Who LLC) and Philadelphia Magazine. She is a member of numerous medical and glaucoma related associations and has been listed in "Best Doctors in America" and "Top Doctors" in the Philadelphia area for many years. Dr. Moster has been invited to lecture nationally and internationally on surgical and medical treatment of glaucoma.

THE MGS ALLERGAN RESEARCH LECTURE

August 6 • 10:40 – 11:20 a.m.

FELIPE A. MEDEIROS, M.D., PH.D.

DR. FELIPE A. MEDEIROS is Professor of Ophthalmology and the Ben and Wanda Hildyard Chair for Diseases of the Eye at the UCSD School of Medicine. He is also Medical Director of the Hamilton Glaucoma Center, University of California San Diego and Director of the Visual Performance Laboratory at the Shiley Eye Institute.

Dr. Medeiros has been ranked by Expertscape as one of the Top 5 Glaucoma Researchers in the World over the past decade. He has published over 250 peer-reviewed publications in major Ophthalmology journals, 40 book chapters and 4 books on the evaluation of the optic nerve, visual field, intraocular pressure and progression of glaucoma. He is the principal investigator on a National Institutes of Health (NIH) R01 grant to evaluate functional impairment in glaucoma. His laboratory is currently evaluating the impact of the disease on activities of daily living in patients with glaucoma, using techniques such as driving simulation and virtual reality. The results of this research will have major impact in the understanding of how glaucoma affects quality of life and how physicians can better determine which patients are at higher risk for developing impairment from the disease.

Dr. Medeiros is also the recipient of several awards/honors in Ophthalmology, including the World Glaucoma Association Research Award, Moacyr Alvaro Medal, the Ronald Lowe Medal from the Australian and New Zealand Ophthalmology Society, the American Glaucoma Society Mid-Career and Clinician-Scientist Awards, South African Glaucoma Society honorary member, Federal University of Sao Paulo Special Recognition Award, Iranian Society of Ophthalmology Recognition Award, University of Sao Paulo (USP) Award, Best Doctors in America, the American Academy of Ophthalmology Editor's Choice and the American Academy of Ophthalmology Achievement Award. He is an elected member of the Glaucoma Research Society and has also served as a member on the World Health Organization (WHO) Committee on Prevention of Blindness. He served as a member of the Research Committee of the American Glaucoma Society and on the Advisory Board of the World Glaucoma Association. Dr. Medeiros is member of the Editorial Board of the Journal of Glaucoma and International Glaucoma Review.

The William S. and Grace Snyder Lectureship in Ophthalmology was endowed by William B. Snyder, M.D., and his wife, Phyllis, in memory of Dr. Snyder's parents, both of whom practiced medicine in the state of Kentucky.

Dr. and Mrs. Snyder have been longstanding supporters of the Vanderbilt Eye Institute and Vanderbilt University Medical Center. Dr. Snyder is a 1957 graduate of the Vanderbilt University Medical School and a senior partner in Texas Retina Associates based in Dallas, Texas. Dr. and Mrs. Snyder established the William S. and Grace Snyder Visiting Professorship in Ophthalmology and provided a lead gift to establish the J. Donald Gass, M.D. Endowed Fellowship. Dr. Snyder has provided additional leadership following his appointment as Chairman of the Vanderbilt Eye Institute Advisory Board in 2005. In 2006, Dr. and Mrs. Snyder established the Phyllis G. and William B. Snyder Chair in Ophthalmology and Visual Sciences.
