

Some things are great to take in.

Others aren't.
Inhaling fumes and vapors can poison your body.

Our world is filled with smells and odors that are safe, when breathed normally. But huffing or sniffing household products can cause permanent brain damage and kill you — at any time, even the first time.

Take care of your body: follow product safety guidelines when using solvents, fuels and aerosol cans.

For free, confidential information
call the 24-hour National Poison Control Hotline.
1-800-222-1222

