

DIVERSITY, EQUITY & INCLUSION WEEK

2021 SPEAKER BIO

Marta Hernanz-Schulman, MD, FAAP, FACR

Professor of Radiology, Vanderbilt University Medical Center
Medical Director of Diagnostic Radiology and Chief of Pediatric Radiology,
Monroe Carell Jr. Children's Hospital at Vanderbilt

Marta Hernanz-Schulman, MD, FAAP, FACR, came to the United States from Cuba the age of 10. After learning English and spending one of her high school years in Spain, she attended Princeton University before entering medical school. Upon graduation, she completed a residency in Pediatrics and a second residency in Radiology, subsequently graduating from a two-year fellowship in Pediatric Radiology from The Children's Hospital Boston and Harvard Medical School.

During her years at Vanderbilt, she has given back to the institution and to the pediatric radiology community. She has led the division of Pediatric Radiology to a multimodality, multispecialty pediatric service at the Children's Hospital, with a goal of excellence in service and family-centered care. That division now includes 11 pediatric radiologists, with pediatric subspecialty training in pediatric neuroradiology, pediatric nuclear medicine, pediatric interventional and pediatric musculoskeletal imaging.

Nationally, Dr. Schulman has chaired or co-chaired many committees and has held office in national organizations. At the American College of Radiology (ACR), she has chaired the Ultrasound Committee, the Pediatric Section of the National In-Service examination, the Guidelines (now Parameters Committee), and the Pediatric Commission as a member of the ACR's Board of Chancellors, as well as its Vice President. She received the Presidential Recognition Award from the Society for Pediatric Radiology (SPR) for her work with the Pediatric Radiology journal, has been President and Chairman of the Board of the SPR, and has been awarded its highest honor and recognition, the Gold Medal, for her work to improve the imaging care of children. She is a Fellow of the ACR and of the American Academy of Pediatrics.

Dr. Schulman will speak at the following 2021 Diversity, Equity and Inclusion Week event:

- Panel Discussion: "Historical Perspectives of URM's in Medicine"
Wednesday, July 21 (Noon to 1 p.m., Zoom)
