Vanderbilt Wilson County

Vanderbilt University Medical Center announced the completion of the acquisition of Tennova Healthcare-Lebanon, a two-campus facility licensed for 245 beds, from subsidiaries of Community Health Systems, Inc.

The hospital, which is the sole provider of both inpatient and outpatient medical services in Wilson County, will be known as Vanderbilt Wilson County Hospital (VWCH).

In Lebanon, the main campus of VWCH is located at 1411 West Baddour Parkway, while the hospital’s second campus, which provides behavioral health and physical rehabilitation services, is located at 500 Park Avenue. The facility at West Baddour Parkway has a floor of undeveloped shell space that can be built out to meet future needs.

These services join an array of other Vanderbilt Health clinics already available in Wilson County.

VWCH is staffed by more than 200 community physicians and employs approximately 600 administrators, nurses and support personnel. Through the acquisition VUMC retained substantially all employees of the hospital’s previous owner.

Holly Bush and Racheal Heady will oversee Risk Management at VWCH. The can be contacted at 615-443-7233.
