VPRAD Voice: Connecting the Past, Present, and Future of VPRAD

You asked, and we listened!

Welcome to the inaugural edition of VPRAD Voice, a newsletter featuring updates, news, and insights into both the VPRAD program and the larger academic enterprise. Our mission is to better connect speakers, participants, alumni, and prospective attendees far beyond the traditional classroom setting.

Check here for changes to the program, engagement opportunities, and professional development and/or career resources.

We're glad you're here!

Due to the ongoing pandemic, VPRAD is remaining virtual. We are continually working to better align the program structure and format to the online space. As part of this redesign, we are seeking to add new 'Virtual Visit' providers.

What is a Virtual Visit?

A Virtual Visit is a chance for VPRAD participants to interact with different elements of VUMC in a more personalized, in-depth way than through a traditional presentation. Virtual Visits take place on Zoom and enable participants to take a deeper dive into different departments, offices, clinics, and labs.

Who can be a Virtual Visit provider?

Virtual Visit providers include many of our former, in-person tour providers, as well as newer participants, such as faculty, administrative staff, postdocs, and VPRAD alumni.
