Resources for Pregnant Students

Student Health Center  615-322-2427

Staffed by physicians and nurse practitioners, all experienced in the diagnosis and counsel of the pregnant patient

Services include:
- Pregnancy testing
- Provider of emergency contraception ("morning after" pill)—no appointment needed
- Referrals to on-campus or off-campus providers for needed services (OB care vs. abortion services vs. adoption services)
- Well woman care—Pap smears
- Student Health Insurance covers pregnancy similar to any other medical condition

Vanderbilt Nurse-Midwives Program  615-322-6173
- Prenatal care for normal pregnancies
- Discussion of options
- Deliveries at Vanderbilt University Medical Center

Vanderbilt Women’s Health at One Hundred Oaks  615-343-5700
- Prenatal care for normal pregnancies
- Discussion of options
- High-risk care
- Deliveries at Vanderbilt University Medical Center

Margaret Cuninggim Women’s Center  615-322-4843
- Discussion of options
- Referrals as needed to on-campus and off-campus resources
- Social support
- Guidance and support, regardless of the decision that the student makes regarding the pregnancy

Office of Financial Aid  615-322-3591
- Medical costs will increase a student’s budget, so financial aid may be increased in some cases (both father and mother)
- Assistance with completing paperwork

Office of Housing and Residential Education  615-322-2591
- Provides an off-campus referral service

Deans Offices (see individual home colleges)
- Discussion of academic options
  - Assistance with completing the semester/year
  - Consideration of medical leave of absence
  - Consideration of reduced course load during pregnancy or after delivery