About our Speaker

Dr. Michael D. Gooch is board certified as an acute care, family, and emergency nurse practitioner. He is also board certified as an emergency, flight, transport and trauma nurse. He has over 23 years of emergency and transport medicine experience. He obtained his MSN from Vanderbilt University and his DNP from Loyola University Chicago. He is an Assistant Professor of Nursing with Vanderbilt University School of Nursing, Nashville, TN, as well as faculty with the Middle Tennessee School of Anesthesia, Madison, TN. He practices as an emergency nurse practitioner in Vanderbilt University Medical Center’s adult emergency department and patient flow center, as well as with TeamHealth in a community emergency department. He has completed over 1,450 patient transports during his tenure with the Vanderbilt’s LifeFlight transport program. He currently serves as a regional director for the American Academy of Emergency NPs.
