

RESEARCH STUDY

Healthy Adults Needed for O'nyong'nyong Virus Immunity Study

The Vanderbilt Vaccine Center is currently looking for Healthy Adults ≥ 18 years of age previously exposed to O'nyong'nyong Virus for a study to better understand how the body responds to the virus.

Study participation will require 1 clinic visit with 1 blood draw.

Volunteers will be compensated for their time and participation.

For more information, please follow the link below or scan the QR code

<https://tinyurl.com/5d3k6buz>

Vanderbilt Vaccine Center

615-936-5758

info@vvcenter.org

James Crowe., M.D. Principal Investigator Vanderbilt University Medical Center

